What Results Are You After?

When implemented well, lean practices enable dramatic increases in safety, quality, production, profitability, and morale. Lean management is as much about people and processes as it is about tools and techniques. This workshop will provide a roadmap to align leadership, focus teams, and deploy fundamental tools for building and sustaining a lean operation that consistently delivers results.

Objectives:

This workshop will help you:

- Build the vision and business case for implementing lean practices.
- Align and develop leaders at all levels to model the way.
- Establish key measurement systems that define the baseline, track ongoing progress, and ensure accountability.
- Engage the entire workforce in creating and sustaining a culture of excellence.
- Strategically plan the deployment of lean tools and practices.
- Provide targeted and hands-on training, coaching, and support to and sustain lean practices.

“ Learning Point has the ability to interact with our managers and provide the training necessary to develop skills for success. I have worked with them for several years in an ongoing relationship and the feedback from their solutions has always been positive. ”
